This amazing book was written by the great astrologer of our time. The author is a professor of psychology, a doctor of astrology and parapsychology at the London School of Astrology. A successful astrologer of our time, the author of subject books and the founder of the school of astrology, Alex Magic, where he teaches according to his own methods, which has long established itself as the strongest and incredibly effective. The Chinese New Year, Chun Jie, is called the Spring Festival. By the way, he has been met for over 2000 years. This solemn day is celebrated brightly and colorfully, because firecrackers explode on the streets of the city, tall figures are marching and colorful ribbons develop. The New Year Festival in China continues for 15 days. Rites and ceremonies are strictly observed, although the date of the celebration itself changes annually. Chinese New Year is celebrated in 2021 from February 12 to 27. When the Gregorian calendar appeared, the new year was called "Spring Festival" ("chunjie"). It is fundamentally different from the Western version of the celebration. The Chinese New Year celebrations conclude with a gorgeous procession exactly 15 days later. How to prepare for the new year? Naturally, preparation for the New Year must be thorough, so many days are devoted to it. Firstly, the Chinese are cleaning and tidying up everywhere - in offices, streets and, of course, houses. It is imperative to get rid of unnecessary trash, things and negative energy. As for the latter, on this score the Chinese have special rituals that help rid their homes of bad energy. To do this, you need to wash every corner of the apartment, basement, garden area and attic. This will allow new and clean energy to stay in the home for the rest of the Chinese New Year.
